

POLITICS

LOBBYING & INFLUENCE

OPINION

AROUND THE HILL

RC JOBS ▶

Search

GO

Capitol Lens: Subtle Power

By Douglas Graham

Roll Call Staff

Nov. 1, 2011, Midnight

Photos don't always need to show some huge effort on the part of the photographer in order to resonate. This quiet and simple image of the unpacking of a photo exhibit makes you want to see more. The exhibit, 'I Still Do: Loving and Living with Alzheimer's' by photographer and author Judith Fox, documents the effects that the disease had on her husband, Dr. Edmund Ackell. It is on display at the Russell Senate Office Building.

Tom Williams/CQ Roll Call

wdg@rollcall.com | @CQRC\_Photo

LATEST NEWS

MOST POPULAR

MOST EMAILED

- HOH: Political Pissing Contests 2:05 p.m.
- Democrats Laying Groundwork for Student Loan Fight 1:48 p.m.
- Missouri: Claire McCaskill Up With \$300,000 TV Ad Buy 12:48 p.m.
- Pennsylvania: NRCC Goes Up Early Against Mark Critz 11:31 a.m.
- Republicans Criticize Obama's Afghanistan Speech
- Nancy Pelosi Criticizes House Legal Group's Intervention in Anti-DOMA Case

More News